Whig editors, generally, are much excited about the resolution introduced by Meriwether, calling for the amount of money paid to General Scott and General Pierce, out of the public treasury. Some are fired with indignation, and some feel a lofty contempt for the whole businessthey scorn and spit upon it. Whig taste, dignity. and statesmanship, depend entirely upon circumstances. These editors felt happy when the call was made for the public money paid Gen. Cass, through a long life of public service. They published long columns of figures, and stared and startled at them Nothing stood them in hand so well. It furnished the theme of comments for months, which were hugely diguified and statesmanlike. Now, it is notorious that the Whig party of New York occupied the Freesoil ground as distinctly as did Van Buren. Taylor got their gy !"-New Haven Palladium. votes by the pledge every where given by Seward & Co. that he would not veto the Preesoil proviso. If Van Buren went off with a deliberate intent to take measures to desolve the Union, so did the Whig party of N. York. It is not true, however, that such an intent was Fred. Douglass had another row on ever swowed by any party. It is also true board the Buckeye State, on her trip to that the votes for Van Buren were not sil Buffalo, Monday night.
